Senate Hearings To Open

Emergency Jobless Bill Passed 392-30 By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thumping 392-30 House vote on the billion dollar emergency unemployment aid bill has gotten President Kennedy's antirecession program off to a good start in Congress.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today his finance committee will conduct a hearing on the bill next week, probably Tuesday or Wednesday.

Democrats would like to get the measure to the White House by mid-March so unemployed Americans who have exhausted jobless insurance benefits can start receiving the extra payments by April 1.

Byrd said he did not expect lengthy hearings or any serious opposition to the measure on the Senate side.

The emergency unemployment legislation has more bipartisan support than any of Kennedy's economic proposals, however. Thus its big House vote was no signal that other measures will slide through so easily.

Bill Asks Ike 5-Star

General Rank Restored

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration bill to restore former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to a five-star general's rank was introduced today.

The honor, which Eisenhower has said he wants, may involve some financial sacrifice for him. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, introduced the measure. It would authorize President Kennedy to appoint Eisenhower to the active list of the regular Army, in the general of the Army rank Eisenhower gave up to become president.

controversial administration bills. The House Labor Committee begins its closed-door work on minimum wage legislation, planning to report out a bill some time next week. The subcommittee which conducted the hearings approved its version Tuesday.

The unemployment aid bill breezed through the House Wednesday with support of 248 Democrats and 144 Republicans. Opposing it were 28 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

The administration estimates as many as 3 million unemployed who have exhausted or will exhaust their jobless insurance benefits may receive help under the program.

They would get a maximum of 13 extra weeks of payments, and a minimum of half of the period now paid in the various states.

The program would cover those who use up their basic insurance rights during the two-year period beginning last June 30. The payments during the two years are estimated to total $927 million; they would be made through advances to the states from the Treasury.

The Treasury would get back the money through a temporary increase in the unemployment compensation payroll tax to 3.5 per cent in 1962 and 1963. The permanent rate is 3.1 per cent.

Jobless Issue Vote Slated In Ohio's Senate

Emergency Portion Seen Doomed But Extender Due Okay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A race between the Democratic Congress and the Republican Ohio legislature to provide emergency benefits for the jobless apparently will end today. It appears Congress will win.

All indications are that the Ohio Senate will pass a House-approved bill today to provide a 13-week extender of benefits. But Democrats insist they will not furnish the six votes needed above the Republicans' 20 to make it an emergency bill, effective immediately.

"That makes the whole thing a futile gesture," asserted Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechern, R-Athens.

The U. S. House passed the federal extender Wednesday by an overwhelming vote. If the U. S. Senate moves with equal speed, it is possible federal benefits for an extra 13 weeks may be available by April 1 to those who have exhausted their maximum of 26 weeks of benefits under present law.

An extender bill passed by the Ohio legislature without an emergency clause—even in the unlikely event that Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle would sign it—could not possibly be in effect before early June.

Ohio's Democratic lawmakers frankly are counting on congressional speed to take them off the hook. They oppose the GOP-sponsored extender bill because of a number of other provisions which they term restrictive and which, they say, make it more difficult for unemployed Ohioans to collect benefits.

But, they admit privately, they haven't quite been able to "sell" their opposition on a point of principle to the folks back home who have exhausted their benefits and are still out of work.

If the federal extender is effective within a month, however, Ohio Democrats figure they can tell the home folks: "You are

An open slate of Republican candidates for nominations for Midland Borough offices in the May 16 primary has been announced by John Reider, party chairman. They include:

Burgess — William F. Komara; Council — Lou Giovannelli, Will T. Leavell, Hugo Oberg and John Reider; school director — Nick Katich and Sam Zuppe; tax collector — Peter Benedict, Margaret Boston and Ernie D'Angelo.

Justice of the peace — Mike Vilsack; auditor — William R. Black, and constable — Phillip DiCostro and Steve Lucas Jr.

Several still are petitioning for judge of elections, and majority and minority inspectors for each precinct, Reider said.

Candidates and party workers met Wednesday evening at the Margaret Boston Agency in the First National Bank Building to discuss plans for the primary.

Move Started To Fight New Midland Tax

Plans to form a Tri-State Citizens' Committee to fight Midland's new occupation tax were announced by Fred Martell of Ohio View, one of several non-residents who protested the annual $10 levy when it was adopted by Council Feb. 23.

He said a meeting is scheduled Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the fire hall at Industry Borough for the sole purpose of organizing a protest.

The audience will elect a board of commissioners and a secretary-treasurer in order to co-ordinate possible testing the tax in court. The commissioners will represent the governing body of the group. "Everyone interested is urged to be present at this meeting," he said.

Martell, who is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., said that during lunch period Wednesday, about 100 from the office attended an "open air" meeting and there was "good response."

Midland Council adopted the $10 a year occupation tax on all who work in Midland, including residents and non-residents. Frank Matsukas of Beaver Falls, Crucible employee, headed the group which protested the tax and asked Council to seek some other means of raising revenue.

Tool And Die Concern Buys Chester Building

Purchase of the former Usona pottery building in Chester for use as a machine and die concern was reported at a meeting of Chester Council Wednesday night. Council agreed to install a sewer line at the site.

The large, one-story structure between 1st and 2nd Sts. will be utilized for the Chester Machine & Die Co., to be operated by Charles McBride Jr. who is connected with the Ceramic Specialties Co. of East Liverpool, which had announced plans for liquidation.

The building, which recently housed a car wash firm, was purchased from Atty. Ruth Cox Turner of Chester. The building is being cleaned and renovated, and the grounds graded.

Reuther Asks Task Force In Slumping Car Industry

DETROIT (AP)—A dismal picture of unemployment in the auto industry, with worse to come, was painted by Walter P. Reuther in calling Wednesday for creation of a six-state joint task force to combat it.

Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan immediately promised the United Auto Workers Union president cooperation "in a cooperative effort to meet common challenges."

Spokesmen for the governors of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Missouri expressed belief their chief executives also would join such a task force. Gov. Mike DiSalle of Ohio was not represented.

3 Armed Men Get $75 From Legion Group

Trio Holds Up 6 In North Georgetown Post After Shooting

Area police were on the alert today for three armed bandits who took $75 in a holdup of the North Georgetown American Legion home at Lake Placencia shortly before midnight.

Six Legion and auxiliary members were faced by two masked men, one of whom fired a shotgun blast through the ceiling of the home and ordered all to lie down on the floor, while a third remained in another room.

The two armed with shotguns tied the hands of Olan Sanor, Robert Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sanor, Mrs. Roy Sanor and Mrs. Delmar Sanor and took their pocketbooks and wallets containing money amounting to $75.

The two with the guns, described as about 5-foot-10, used clothesline they had with them to tie the victims' hands behind their backs.

The three men and three women were cleaning up the kitchen following a meeting at the post home.

Constable Merle Hardy of Knox Township, who arrived about 1 a. m., said the robbery occurred about 11:40, just as the six were about ready to leave the building.

The victims told Hardy the two men with the pump shotguns told them not to get up after they departed because "We'll be watching you." "None of the six saw the man in the other room, but heard the armed pair talking to him."

The bandits told them they didn't

De Gaulle's Peace Talks Bid Accepted

Negotiations With Algeria Rebels Now Appear Imminent

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Algerian rebels today accepted French President Charles de Gaulle's bid for peace talks to end the long and costly Algerian war. Direct negotiations appeared imminent.

The rebels insisted on their goal in the 6½-year war: Independence from France. They softened it somewhat by saying that Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria are planning to join in a loose federation retaining friendly ties with Paris.

The rebel announcement came in a joint communique issued after talks here between the Algerian nationalist leaders and their two neighbors and supporters, Tunisia and Morocco. Rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas conferred with King Hassan II of Morocco and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia until just before dawn.

Bourguiba had come directly from Paris bearing a new offer for talks from De Gaulle.

French Information Officer Louis Terrenoire disclosed in Paris that De Gaulle told Bourguiba France is no longer insisting that the rebels lay down their arms before negotiations take place. A cease-fire would have robbed the Algerian nationalists of their main political weapon, which is the war itself.

The two sides see the negotiations differently. The rebels want to talk only about independence. De Gaulle, Terrenoire said, wants to discuss "the conditions for self-determination."

By this he meant the De Gaulle plan for letting Algeria decide its own political future through free elections. Independence from France is one of the choices De Gaulle has outlined.

The key portion of the North African leaders' communique said: "Considering the recent developments of the Algerian problem, the three chiefs of state esteem that there ought to be no further obstacles to the opening of direct negotiations between the French government and the provisional government of the Algerian republic for independence in the framework for total decolonization."

They also reaffirmed their determination to build the "Grand Maghreb." This is the Arabic expression for a political and eco-

Chester Plan Would Allow Traffic Shifts

Mayor, Police Chief Granted Powers In Council Legislation

An ordinance providing emergency traffic control powers to the Chester mayor and police chief was started through Council Wednesday night.

Council approved first reading of the traffic measure which would enable the mayor or police chief, at their own discretion or by order of Council, to make changes in the movement of vehicles on city streets to revise parking regulations.

The ordinance would enable Mayor Ray Collins and Police Chief Harold Davis to set up restrictions on weight loads on streets — to prevent damage to surfaces weakened by weather conditions — for a period of 90 days.

It would also permit them to erect traffic control devices or place parking bans or remove parking restrictions.

The ordinance also provides for specific permission to control parking on 5th St. at the City Park where it has been recommended that a parking ban on the west side of the street be lifted during part of the year when the park is not being used.

Council also authorized the purchase of two auxiliary sirens for the southwest and northeast sections of the city to provide a more adequate fire alert to firemen and motorists.

The two sirens will be of 2 horsepower. They will include a new $200 siren and a used one costing $100. Both will be obtained from the Sutphen Fire Equipment Co. of Columbus. Two smaller sirens obtained on a test basis last month proved inadequate, Councilman

Don Hissam reported.

Council also authorized a request filed by Hissam for the purchase of five 50-foot sections of 2½-inch fire hose needed by the fire department. The hose, costing $2.35 a foot, will be obtained from the Sutphen firm.

Councilman Willis Bishop, chairman of the water committee, turned over to Council delinquent fire levy bills totaling $933, unpaid since the 2-year fire levy expired in December.

Cunningham Appeal Waits District Court

An appeal of the conviction of Ira Cunningham, ex-city policeman, for a 1962 burglary of the Burdick Hardware Co. store is among six cases to be heard by the 7th District Court of Appeals Tuesday at Lisbon.

Cunningham — now serving a prison term for attempted bribery of a juror in the 1959 trial for the Burdick burglary — won a reversal of the conviction in the appellate court in 1959, on grounds the case had not been tried within the prescribed three court periods.

However, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled in favor of an appeal filed by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw on the reversal, and the case was remanded to the district court for arguments upon merits of law.

Also on the docket is an appeal by the McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., against an injunction filed by the City of East Liverpool against the firm's milk deliveries here because the city said standards were not met.

Other cases include State of Ohio vs. William Thomas of Wellsville, convicted of assault with intent to rape; the Harr Iron Co. vs. the Melas Theater Corp.; Ohio Highway Department vs. Thomas F. Lucas, and Lois Jane Bingham vs. James Hartman and Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co.

The appellate court includes Judges Lynn B. Griffith, John L. Donahue and Paul W. Brown.

Toronto Plant Expansion Set At $2 Million

Titanium Company Plans Facility For Tubing Production

Plans for a $2 million expansion at the Toronto plant of the Titanium Metals Corp. of America were announced today at the firm's New York headquarters.

The new facilities, for production of tubing, will employ about 100, and contractors are expected to hire 300 during the construction.

The expansion comprises construction of new facilities for production of titanium tubing to meet increasing demand of non-military users — primarily chemical processors.

Titanium's immunity to attack in such highly corrosive environments as wet chlorine, nitric acid and polluted sea water has led to a doubling of sales to the chemical process industry in 1960.

Both seamless tubing and welded-and-redrawn tubing will be produced when the new facility goes into operation early in 1962.

A jointly-owned subsidiary of Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. and National Lead Co., TMCA now produces tubing in Allegheny Ludlum facilities in Watervliet, N. Y., and Wallingford, Conn.

The new tubing facility, operating in conjunction with those currently in operation, will produce

Parents Charged With Murder

Family's Journey Brought Death To 5 Of 6 Children

More than 2½ years ago eight members of the Dudley family set out from upstate New York to make a living "on the road". Today, the parents are in jail and five of their children are dead. This account by Ed Young traces the trail of tragedy from coast to coast.

Violence Boils Over Following Takeover Of Kasai's Capital

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Rampaging Congolese soldiers killed 44 civilians in bitter street fighting at Luluabourg, the United Nations reported today.

The troops ran wild through the town after three of their comrades had been killed and three wounded by a pro-Lumumbist mob.

The violence boiled over in the aftermath of last week's takeover of the capital of Kasai Province by Lumumbist troops from Stanleyville. These troops pulled out two days ago and left the town in a ferment.

Luluabourg, 400 miles east of Leopoldville, was the scene of tribal clashes in the days just after the Congo gained independence from Belgium last summer.

The United Nations reported that after the battle Wednesday some 1,000 civilians sought U. N. protection.

Luluabourg, though officially within the orbit of the Leopoldville regime, is heavily populated by ardent tribal followers of the late Patrice Lumumba.

A U. N. spokesman said the trouble started Tuesday night when a yelling mob demonstrated to demand the release of an officer called Col. Mulumba.

Mulumba was arrested by his own troops for showing pro-Lumumbist sympathies during the takeover.

The mob shot three of the soldiers.

There was no immediate report of any Europeans among the dead. Figures for injured were not known at U. N. headquarters.

The fighting raged through most of Wednesday but the U. N. reported that by 8 a. m. the town was quiet again.

The 1,000-strong contingent of U. N. Ghanaian troops in Luluabourg took no part in the fighting.

After the fighting in Luluabourg, Ghanaian and Congolese troops joined forces to set up

Application To Be Renewed

Chester To Seek Sewage Plant Aid

A renewed application for a federal grant and a revision of planned rates for Chester's proposed sewage disposal system were set as the next steps in the long-standing program at a meeting of Council and the Sanitary Board Wednesday night.

Meeting with the city authorities were Harry Lameier of the Magnus & Co. bonding firm of Cincinnati, Jack Fuhrbacher of Walter, Woody & Heimerdinger bonding firm of Cincinnati and A. R. Todd, Wheeling engineer.

LAMEIER reviewed past moves by Chester authorities in attempting to implement plans for a sewage disposal system, required under the anti-pollution provisions of the Ohio Valley Sanitation Pact.

Council in 1958 established a rate for the sewage project, amounting to 110 per cent of water bills. However, the rate was not submitted by the previous administration to the Public Service Commission for approval, and the PSC has since indicated a gallon consumption rate is favored over a percentage basis.

Lameier said last night he recommends that the city file application for a federal grant — the fourth sought by the city for the project — and that construction bids be obtained to determine the full cost of the program.

HE INDICATED this is the procedure followed by other communities, because the rates cannot be fixed exactly until the full cost is known.

John Pinney and James Bowers of the Sanitary Board said previous applications had included the rates tentatively adopted by Council because it had been indicated a rate schedule was required for the grant.

Todd, who prepared plans and made a preliminary survey for the project, said the last estimate of the cost of the whole program was $340,000.

Lameier explained that a federal grant would provide approximately 30 per cent of the costs of the project, and would not have to be paid back.

He said for the past several years, bond money has been "tight," but that the trend is now changing and any city going into such a project faces as "borrower's market" in which money can be obtained more cheaply.

THE BONDING consultant said to properly develop the project requires co-ordination of the Sanitary Board, the city solicitor, the engineer and Council.

He pointed out federal grant approval must be obtained, along with approval of bonding attorneys, the PSC, the West Virginia Health Department, the Water Commission and finally, the public at a special open hearing.

Lameier, whose firm handled the bonds for the city water works and the Chester bridge, said the original bonding contract has not been updated because of the fluctuating nature of the bond market. He said the city would incur no financial responsibility until all plans are complete and the contract is signed.

TODD ALSO said the engineering plans have not been brought up to date because previous Councils did not take final steps toward the projects and that improvements and changes in disposal methods are being made constantly.

Council will meet again March 15 with the Sanitary Board, the bonding firm representatives and Todd to further discuss the plans and financing and prepare the application for the federal grant. The deadline is June 1 for a 1962 allotment.

The 1960 wool program runs from April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961. Payments will be made this summer when rates are determined. Producers have 30 days after the close of the marketing year in which to file applications for wool and lamb payments with the County ASC office in New Cumberland.

Auditor Seeks Close Control For City Tools

Little economies can lead to big savings in public funds, City Auditor Lawrence A. Applegate said today, in effect, as he urged strict control over hand tools used by the street department and careful investigation of need before purchase of supplies and equipment.

To guard against picks, shovels and other small tools being left on the job site at the end of the day, every street department employee should be charged with the tools when he begins work each morning and credited again when he turns them in at the end of the shift, Applegate said.

Establishment of a toolroom and regular accounting for the tools "would eliminate cases of axes, picks and shovels being left along road sides if return of tools were left to chance," Applegate said.

The auditor also urged department heads to "investigate any requisition that is used to order supplies to ascertain if what is being ordered is exactly what is needed."

"Consultation between department heads and employees in regard to what supplies are required would quite often eliminate the purchase of a cheaper way could be found to solve the problem," he added.

Away From Massive Retaliation

Apparently a news snoop in Washington came up with confidential information when he reported that Secretary of State Rusk was backing away from the late John Foster Dulles principle of "massive retaliation." But as long as the fat's in the fire, the public might as well enjoy the spectacle.

Ever since Secretary Dulles had the diplomatic world choking down a lump of fear with tough talk about "massive retaliation" if the Soviet Union started anything in Europe, military realists have been pointing to the probability that future wars would be fought below the atomic threshold.

They would be like the Chinese wars of the past, in which the main object was to minimize risk. There would be no nuclear bombing. Intercontinental missiles with the atomic warheads wouldn't be fired. The Strategic Air Command never would be dispatched. These ultimate weapons would be held in reserve, as poison gas was held in reserve throughout World War II.

Yet, the military realists were kept cornered by the "massive retaliation" theorists. The United States continued to gear its military machinery to the supposition that another war would be fought with atomic bombs. Those who argued that it would not be this way, for the same reason it was not this way in Korea, were kept on the defensive.

But they continued to make themselves heard, and it's a good guess they were listened to by President Kennedy and Secretary Rusk, among others in the new administration in Washington. Their idea is that the United States would be courting disaster by preparing to fight only an atomic war, because that would make it helpless to cope with non-atomic war—the kind it fought in Korea and couldn't—or wouldn't win.

IF THIS fat really has fallen into the fire in Washington while a news snoop was watching, the American people may as well watch the scurry and skirmish.

They can be sure the Russian embassy will be sending out for all the papers, to keep track of the evidence, because the Soviet Union always has known something it is hard for "massive retaliators" to admit—that the United States would never use a nuclear bomb in Europe and this would have the effect of putting Europe at the mercy of an old-fashioned "blitz"—the kind Germany used in World War II—unless Europeans, themselves, were prepared to do what the United States hadn't prepared to do.

Whose Education Will Be Improved?

It has taken no time at all to reveal that federalized education is not designed to improve education everywhere.

When citizens of the states that would pay out more than they would get in return discover what they are in for, their ardor for federal aid, if any, will vanish.

Federal aid is a taxation trick to make it appear the federal government would be giving aid everywhere when in fact it would be interested only in diverting money from places already supporting school systems to places that claim they are too poverty-stricken to support school systems.

Walter Lippmann, who believes in federal aid, says we mustn't fall into the mistake of thinking the federal government would tax the rich for the benefit of the poor. The poorer states, he says, are making a greater effort to support their schools than are the rich states.

There's a catch in that presentation, because 5 per cent of $100, which sounds like an all-out effort, still produces no more than one-half of one per cent of $1,000, which sounds like minimum effort. The Kennedy proposal for federal aid is a plan to divert money from well-to-do states to poor states. It is not a plan to improve education in general.

Lippmann says it is necessary because the total of pupils has outgrown the resources of some of the states. Supplementary support, he argues, has been made necessary by resistance to local and state taxes. This is because local and state governments depend on property taxes—immovable revenue sources.

Beardsley Ruml is quoted by Lippmann to the effect that it isn't possible to raise more money in all 45,000 school districts, or even in all 50 states. Therefore, the easy way out is to let the federal government take money from the haves and distribute it among have-nots. Let Ohio pay for Mississippi. Let Illinois pay for Georgia.

When it becomes clear to supporters of federal aid that they are supporting a plan to divide the wealth, at the expense of the states already paying for first-class education—that this isn't a plan to improve education in general but to penalize it where it's good and to retard it where it's bad—there will be a sudden slump in enthusiasm for federal aid to education.

No Satisfaction Whatever

If the New York police have the man who killed 4-year-old Edith Kicorius after assaulting the terrified and helpless child their part in settling the score for a crime so terrible it shocked even blase New Yorkers will have been done. Their prisoner has confessed he killed the child, but that does not mean he can be convicted.

There will be, in all probability, a legal skirmish about the confession. There will be a skirmish about the prisoner's sanity. It is unlikely he will be able to find voluntary legal counsel, because he has no resources.

If legal counsel is assigned to him, it may do as workmanlike a job as if he had been named Loeb or Leopold in 1924 and the defense lawyer's name was Clarence Darrow.

But suppose the prisoner has no defense and is convicted handsily. If he is electrocuted, who will have satisfaction? If he is imprisoned for life, who will have satisfaction? This depraved man surely did not wait until he was 59 to commit his first assault on a child. He did not wait until the twilight of his life to show the symptoms of depravity that marked him as unfit for contact with society.

Some day there will be a way to segregate these people for the protection of helpless children. It is too bad society must wait and wonder where their next atrocity will be committed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

White House Anti-Blabbing policy seems to be going okay and if any books are written this week it won't be by administration house staff. But administration is most colorful one since Teddy Roosevelt's day and behind-the-scenes events are bound to be penetrated.

Answer to "Is there a private life after entering White House?" is "Not a chance."

If slightest contact is established with a Yorkshire pudding cook in British government, a corned beef and cabbage specialist in Ireland or hasenpfeffer whipper-upper in Berlin it will get into news.

(We had a tip today that Israel's foremost knishes and salami expert had caused a crisis there by hinting he had American offers.)

White House has evidently adopted a firm ham-and-eggs policy in interest of a safer world. If President and wife have a yen for Veal Paupiettes, Chili Con Queso, Parisian Goose Cassoulets, Lamb Shashlik or Marinated Garbanzos, they will dine in top secret so no country can suspect espionage and a coming raid on its native kitchen.

So calm down one and all. It is not the intention of the administration to cross those rugged new frontiers with chuck wagon loaded with fabulous menus and foreign cuisine experts.

NEW YORK has a new police commissioner, the old one being regarded as too efficient and unwavering. These are days when nonvacillating, nonpolitical tough police chiefs are sure to hear the command "Drop your efficiency and come out with your hands up."

Commissioner Stephen Kennedy was an unbending performer and his exit was therefore certain. His successor Patrick Murphy is no sweetie-pie. He has come up in the Kennedy pattern of fine public service. But the tougher he is, the sooner he will be in trouble.

Call for Americans to be "Minutemen" if freedoms are to be protected in present state of world, is made by President. Nobody can shirk this appeal. But there are too many signs that we have been softened up so much that a leap into role of Minuteman would require a launching pad. Plenty of people born in last two decades think a Minuteman is a fellow who can't wait two minutes for traffic light to change. How many would willingly make the trip to Lexington without hitch-hiking? Who would go to tower of Old North Church without escalator? Wouldn't there be thousands who would want a contract providing that Delaware not be crossed Saturday, Sunday or holidays?

Three R's With Ramifications

U.S. Anti-Crime Move Shifts Plans

By Victor Riesel

There are secretly shot movies and still photos of the mob at its galas throughout the Midwest. This celluloid evidence of the night doings of the crime syndicate's affluent society is in the files of some police departments and regional federal enforcement headquarters.

It all makes a grim picture of the business as usual—and the gaiety as usual—of the underworld as it openly parks its limousines and makes the party rounds, despite years of exposure and official probes.

This is the cream of the criminal combine which reaches into industrial rackets as well as narcotics and gambling.

This is the combine which Attorney General Robert Kennedy and his brother, the President, thought they could crack by creating a National Crime Commission.

Now the Kennedys have changed their minds. They will not create a new super federal anti-crime board. It is reported they will ask Senators Kefauver and McClellan to stop pushing such a proposal in Congress.

Thus there now is unanimity of opinion among the President, the attorney general and J. Edgar Hoover, whose FBI data has it that it costs the United States some $22 billion annually to fight crime and the criminal cartels.

IT SEEMS quite logical to assume that these three men discussed the National Crime Commission proposals when they talked in the White House last Thursday morning.

The Kennedys, who have been publicly committed to a new national crime unit, changed their minds because they believed this might develop into a garroting of civil liberties.

An independent crime commission, created by Congress, would have the powers of a Securities Exchange Commission, an Interstate Commerce Commission, or a Federal Communications Commission. Such a unit would not answer to any Cabinet member. It would be responsible only to the President.

It would have the authority to subpoena and probe but not the duty to prosecute.

It could, if created, put businessmen, civic leaders and union chiefs on the witness stand and indict them in the public mind without the evidence needed to prosecute in a court. It would be a super-commission with the power to hold endless hearings.

ITS THREAT would be in its permanency.

So Bob Kennedy, with the warm support of J. Edgar Hoover, has done a reverse Frankenstein.

He has killed off the monster before putting life into it. Instead the attorney general—reportedly after talks with the President—is placing in the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section all the functions of the proposed National Crime Commission. This must mean heavy reinforcement of the unit.

A "section" is away down on the chain of command inside the Justice Department. It will need considerable new staffing if it is to set up machinery to keep tabs on some five thousand high-echelon hoods—an arbitrary figure but a conservative one.

Although this unit is a section of the Criminal Division, Bob Kennedy is expected to cut through channels and help run it himself. Thus, quietly he has held a series of personal meetings with the chiefs and top field staffs of enforcement agencies in other departments to coordinate them with the work of his own organized crime section. This is as unprecedented as free samples at the mint.

NO LONGER is there just a letter from one Cabinet member asking for cooperation from another.

Bob Kennedy now dashes over to, say, the treasury for a talk with the head of the Internal Revenue Service and some of the IRS top agents, or the enforcement chiefs from "outside" justice come over to his office.

Thus by the time he will have finished his series of off-the-record conferences, he will have sat with such internationally famed enforcers—and their staffs—as Harry Anslinger, chief of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, V. E. Baughman, head of the Secret Service, and Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg and his compliance division chiefs.

All this will take time. It won't be until next year that this machinery of Bob Kennedy's will run head on into the mob's apparatus. Then there will be a loud noise, with the toughs doing all the anguished shouting.

Peace Corps Tops Soviet

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Soviet Union has nothing similar to the Peace Corps which President Kennedy established Wednesday: Trained young men and women who will help backward peoples develop by living and working with them.

For years the Russians have been sending technicians into backward countries. But American experts on the Soviets say the Russians in other lands are clannish and stay by themselves.

This country, too, sends technicians abroad. But the basic difference between them and the Peace Corps will be this:

Peace Corps members will get no salary—just subsistence wages. They will speak the language of the backward people to whom they are assigned. By example and working side by side with them, they will help them do what the technical advisers only suggest.

Kennedy gave examples of the specific programs to which Peace Corps members can contribute:

Teaching in primary and secondary schools, especially as part of national English language teaching programs; participating on the worldwide program of malaria eradication; instruction and operation of public health and sanitation projects; aiding in village development through school construction; helping local farmers produce better crops by assisting them in the use of modern implements and techniques.

Kennedy said: "The initial emphasis on these programs will be on teaching."

The President did two things in this field Wednesday. He established the Peace Corps by executive order on a temporary basis until Congress by law can create a permanent corps. He asked Congress to do this.

By getting started now, he explained, he thought some of the young men and women could be sent to jobs overseas by late fall. Training, he suggested, can range from six weeks to six months.

He didn't limit the corps to just the young, although he said he thought it would be mostly made up of young people. The government, in addition to giving them subsistence wages, will take responsibility for their health.

How will the program work? In various ways, as Kennedy sees it:

Private organizations and institutions will carry out much of the program, with federal financial help. And the Peace Corps members will be made available to countries which need them in these ways:

Through private voluntary agencies carrying on international assistance programs; through overseas programs of colleges and universities; through assistance programs of international agencies; through assistance programs of the American government; through new programs which the Peace Corps itself directly administers.

The idea of a Peace Corps was suggested in 1960 by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. Humphrey introduced legislation to establish the corps. And Kennedy endorsed the idea during the 1960 campaign.

Congress in 1960 authorized a study of the project. It was undertaken by the University of Colorado's research foundation. The professors consulted with hundreds of individuals in private organizations, government, and educational institutions. They sent out hundreds of questionnaires. Researchers studied youth corps possibilities in 10 countries in Asia, Africa and South America.

This week a preliminary report was issued—the final one comes in April—and recommended creation of the corps. And Wednesday Kennedy acted.

He believes service in the corps will last from two to three years. Going into the corps won't make a young man draft-proof when he returns home. And when they do come home, according to Kennedy's proposal, they will get some small sum in severance pay to help them live until they find a job.

Kennedy is thinking in terms of having perhaps 500 young men and women ready to go abroad by fall. If Congress makes the corps permanent, it would have some thousands of members.

How much would it cost? Kennedy didn't venture a guess. But the Colorado professors figured a 5,000-member peace corps might cost about $50 million a year.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The State Department of Education authorized the expenditure of a portion of the $300 fund allotted to the Board of Education for clothes and shoes for needy children.

Chalmers Smith, chief shipping clerk of the Homer Laughlin China Co., was elected president of the Newell Community Association.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Potters Supply Co. awarded contracts for a factory expansion program costing about $60,000.

Seven states and 24 lodges were represented at the annual inspection of the Riddle Masonic Lodge 375.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Pleasant Heights Home and School Association donated $15 to the Citizens Committee for Better Schools to help finance showing of films on local school conditions.

With the exception of two rural districts, the tax rate of the East Liverpool School District was the smallest in Columbiana County.

A Divided Court

By David Lawrence

Justices Split Over Free Speech Issue

It seems incredible that, with a cold war going on and with billions of dollars being spent by the Soviet government to infiltrate every democratic country in the world, there should be issued by four members of the Supreme Court of the United States — Chief Justices Black, Douglas and Justices Stewart, Clark, Frankfurter, Harlan and Whittaker — see the Communist menace in its realistic form. By their latest decision, they make it clear that the empty claim to protection of free speech will not save suspected Communists in the United States from investigation by an authorized congressional committee.

Fortunately, five other members of the court — Justices Stewart, Clark, Frankfurter, Harlan and Whittaker — see the Communist menace in its realistic form. By their latest decision, they make it clear that the empty claim to protection of free speech will not save suspected Communists in the United States from investigation by an authorized congressional committee.

The four dissenting justices insist that witnesses, when asked by a congressional committee whether they are Communists, need not even take the Fifth Amendment but can refuse to answer on the ground that their rights of free speech under the First Amendment are being transgressed.

The argument solemnly proclaimed by the four dissenting justices is that no agency of the federal government, be it legislative, executive or judicial, may "harass or punish people for their beliefs or for their speech about, or public criticism of, laws and public officials."

This doctrine would make it possible for any citizen to decline to tell an investigating committee about rackets, monopolies, payola or any irregularities in human behavior on which it might be desirable to pass remedial laws.

The witness could merely claim that the congressional committee was harassing him for his criticisms of the committee and was trying to punish him for his beliefs.

Congressional efforts to get information on which to base regulatory laws could thus be frustrated.

IN THE LATEST opinion — the case of Frank Wilkinson, who refused to give even his place of residence to the House Committee on Un-American Activities — the majority of the justices repeated a statement from a previous decision which said:

"To suggest that because the Communist party may also sponsor peaceable political reforms the constitutional issues before us should now be judged as if that party were just an ordinary political party from the standpoint of national security, is to ask this court to blind itself to world affairs which have determined the whole course of our national policy since the close of World War II."

What the majority of the court says is supposed to be "the law of the land," but it is being scorned — in the companion case of Carl Braden — by Justice Black, with Chief Justice Warren and Justice Douglas agreeing.

In this dissenting opinion these words of defiance are issued: "The founders of this nation were not then willing to trust the definition of First Amendment freedoms to Congress or this court, nor am I now."

To accept the idea that Congress cannot investigate or that the Supreme Court cannot rule on the case of a man who may be serving or helping a hostile government — an enemy — is to deprive the nation of any power of self-preservation.

The purpose of these congressional investigations is to expose the espionage and subversive activities of the whole Communist apparatus in the United States.

LOYAL AMERICAN citizens are expected to co-operate with their own government in all its branches.

The Communists have stolen atomic secrets. They have at times infiltrated the departments in Washington.

The Supreme Court in the past has taken the view that it isn't a right of free speech falsely to cry "fire!" in a crowded theater. Nor does the "free speech" clause of the Constitution give anyone immunity from an investigation to determine whether he belongs to a party that is financed by, instigated by and often directed by a foreign government which is seeking to damage the United States and possibly bring on a war.

Justice Black argues that editors and newsmen who have criticized a congressional committee now could be brought before that same committee and punished for refusing to answer questions.

Whenever there is basis for suspecting that a newspaperman is paid by or working for an enemy government, he shouldn't be able to claim immunity under the First Amendment, either.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities is under attack these days by many so-called liberals who will be encouraged now by the dissenting opinions of the Supreme Court to carry on their campaign to curtail, if not abolish, the work of the House committee and also of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

The defenders of America's safety against the Communist enemy will find an irrefutable argument in the two opinions rendered this week by Justices Stewart, Clark, Frankfurter, Harlan and Whittaker.

We Aren't Smart

By Truman Twill

So along comes a California school superintendent and blames sloppiness on educational gimmicks. He doesn't say the gimmicks caused the slobs but that they didn't do anything to arrest the slobs' sloppiness. It's a neat point.

Slobs are born, but sloppiness is blamed on failure to overcome it. My sympathy goes out to all schoolmen who try to do something about this. But mostly my sympathy is turned inward. I am a slob — not a problem slob, exactly, but a slob in the modern sense. And I was born this way and never redeemed.

There was an old-fashioned sense for "slob" that no one has in mind any more — an awkward, untidy person who is thick in the head.

Your modern slob — we modern slobs — are not entirely awkward, not necessarily untidy and not always thick in the head. Our sloppiness is more subtle.

Things don't quite come off when we take charge of them. We don't quite make the grade. We know a little about music but not enough to be musicians. We know a little about languages but not enough to keep from starving in a foreign country.

We are slobs about the arts, and we are slobs about athletics. Everything we do leaves much to be desired. We never really make the grade.

As time passes and this becomes evident to everybody who knows us, it ceases to be a secret. Ultimately it becomes common knowledge that we are slobs, and our lives become easier.

Nobody expects anything of us. They quit putting us on committees and trying to strike sparks of interest in our slobs' minds about their worthy causes.

We are consigned to our proper place in the scheme of things, which is just below the salt and just above the place where the lower division of the animal kingdom begins.

It is conceded we will not be presidents, governors, or even ward councilmen. Our wives and children give up hope that we will strike it rich and lift them out of the genteel poverty that has cramped their lives.

It is at about this time that people cease to be afraid of what we might do to them if we became powerful, because that thought is ridiculous. We have no rivals because there is no contest.

We'll never own a bank or rob one.

We'll never have any titles nor will we ever end up with a number and a mug shot.

We have found our niche in life. We are respectable, taxpaying members of the amalgamation of slobs. We never went anywhere and aren't going anywhere.

There is only one distinction to which we can point with pride. We outnumber everybody. Numerically, no one can hold a candle to us. We have what is called the rabbit's advantage in demography. We can outbreed and outnumber our enemies.

All we need to do is join hands and we could surround them, which we just might do if it weren't for the thing that makes us slobs: We aren't smart.

The average American jobholder, including workers living in the small towns all the way up to the big cities and their suburbs, spends 18 minutes traveling from his home to his place of business.

The two lakes with the greatest lengths in the world are the North American Lake Superior and the African Lake Tanganyika, each of which is 400 miles long.

Bishop said there are indications some of the residents cannot pay because they are older persons on pension, widows or similar cases. He said the water department is involved only because it was used as a means of collecting the levy, and it is up to Council to make a ruling on final collection.

Council will meet Monday night to study the bills and determine if some can be canceled due to hardship.

Council agreed to visit the site of a clogged storm sewer at Carolina Ave. and 2nd St. about which Russell Davis and Harley Freeman of 2nd St. filed a complaint last night.

The two said the sewer is blocked and water is diverted onto sidewalks and into basements in the area, causing damage, inconvenience and posing a health hazard. Davis, operator of a grocery store, said he has notified the West Virginia Road Commission about the sewer, and the catch-basins have been cleaned.

However, Davis said, the sewer should be cleaned out by drag buckets as it was in 1950. He said there is only an 8-inch drop in the one-block area, insufficient to prevent silt from settling, and blocking the sewer which is owned by the state.

Council also plans Monday night to visit an alley between Montana and Indiana Aves. where residents have complained about the right-of-way being blocked. Other complaints of sewer and street needs were referred to committee and department heads.

Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner reported the West Virginia Liquor Commission is awaiting a ruling from the attorney general on the legality of municipalities collecting an additional 1 cent on liquor as a result of a recent state tax boost.

Mrs. Turner said the T-K Roofing Co. is expected to present an agreement to Council at the next meeting regarding the firm's request to further utilize a city tract at the upper pump station. The company wishes to place a roof over a loading platform which the city has permitted on the property.

Permission was granted the Methodist Church to erect church signs at 1st St. and Route 30. Bishop reported a new fence around the city reservoir has been completed and painted to city standards, and has been paid for.

Bishop also reported a number of delinquent water bills have been paid since they were turned over to Squire John Herron of New Cumberland, and more delinquent bills are to be given to the squire for collection.

Councilman Harry Davis reported the need for load limit signs on Carolina Ave. near 3rd St. to prevent trucks from inadvertently turning onto 3rd to use Virginia Ave. as a shortcut to the Chester Bridge.

rently employed, will enable TMCA to reduce greatly the lead time now encountered with quantity purchase of tubing products.

The expansion is being engineered by Titanium Metals, with subcontracts for wiring, plumbing, roofing, pipe fitting and concrete work to be let to private contractors in the Ohio Valley. Labor these subcontractors will supply will equal about 300 jobs.

Capacity production of the facility will provide employment for approximately 100.

In announcing the expansion program, Earl A. Neeb, Toronto plant manager, said:

"You might say we're betting $2 million on development of the civilian market required to stabilize the titanium industry. Last year, sales of metal to civilian users totaled about 15 per cent of shipments, with the remainder going to military aircraft engines, airframes and missiles."

Journey

parents' arrest for neglect leading to the death of the fifth child, Carol Ann, 7.

Wednesday the charge became more serious. Hanover County, Va., where police say Carol Ann died of malnutrition, exposure and neglect, issued warrants charging Dudley, 47, and his wife, 44, with murder.

Carol Ann's emaciated body, wrapped in an old blue blanket, was discovered Feb. 9 in woods just off U.S. 1 near Lawrenceville in southside Virginia. She died, according to police, Feb. 1 or 2 and was kept in the back seat of the Dudley's dilapidated car until her body was placed in the woods by her mother Feb. 6.

But, said a State Police investigator, E. M. Lloyd, the poverty, hunger and death had started long before Carol Ann's demise—in fact only four months after the Dudleys left Syracuse with the six children.

Statements by Dudley and police investigation, Lloyd said, have showed this is what happened:

Near Baldwin, Fla., on Nov. 17, 1958, death claimed the first of the youngsters, Claude, then 3. His body was wrapped in a blanket and deposited in an abandoned mine pit Nov. 18 or 19 near Lakeland, Fla.

The Dudleys, now carrying their family around in an old panel truck for which they had swapped the sedan, were heading east from California in December 1959, when two other children died.

Norman, 10, died Dec. 23 in Phoenix, Ariz.; Charles, 8, two days later—Christmas Day—in the same city.

The Dudleys kept on driving east and south, and police said, waited until about Jan. 1 to dispose of the boys' bodies.

Then they wrapped them in blankets, weighted the human cargo, and tossed the dead boys into Lake Pontchartrain in Louisiana.

Then there were three.

Debbie, 3, was next-to-youngest of the children, and the next to go. She died at Gary, W. Va., May 21, 1960. Six days later, Dudley wrapped her body in a blanket and left it in the woods off a highway near Jenkins, Ky.

At Gary, authorities said they would launch an investigation into Debbie's death. The McDowell County prosecuting attorney, Harry S. Camper, said a carnival played in a baseball park at Gary last May.

Then there were two.

With Carol Ann's death last month, only one: Christine, 2½. Christine was with the Dudleys when they were arrested Feb. 10 at Fuquay Springs, N. C., a day after the discovery of Carol Ann's body. She seems in good health and is now in a foster home in Lawrenceville, under care of the Brunswick County Welfare Department.

Mrs. Dudley, a frightened-looking woman with black hair, is in jail in Lawrenceville. Her husband—wiry, dark-haired, bespectacled—is in the State Penitentiary in Richmond, where he was transferred recently after attempting suicide.

now drawing extended benefits and we protected your basic rights to collect compensation."

Ohio Democratic leaders now believe, after studying the federal, extender, that no legislative action will be required in Ohio to permit more than 50,000 exhaustees to collect extra benefits.

Sharing a fringe of the legislative spotlight Wednesday was a bill to entrust operation of the embattled Ohio State Fair to a commission of 16 members appointed by the governor.

The idea is to get the languishing fair on sound financial basis. Sponsors are Reps. Fred K. Cassel, R-Wyandot; Don K. Cooper, R-Ashland, and House Minority Leader James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield. Lantz' co-sponsorship indicated possible support for the measure by the administration of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle who has been somewhat less than enthusiastic about the state fair as it now is operated.

One of the possibilities, according to Cassel, to restore the financial self-sufficiency of the fair would be for the proposed commission to promote other exhibitions on the fairgrounds in Columbus between the annual state fairs held in late August.

Fifteen commissioners would be appointed by the governor for six-year terms subject to Senate confirmation. The agriculture director would be the 16th member. The manager named by the commission could receive a top salary of $18,000 a year.

Commissioners would receive $50 a day for actual work with a $1,500-a-year limit. At least five of the appointed 15 would be farmers, one would represent the Ohio Fair Managers Association and others would be from business, industry, labor, education and similar groups.

The bill also would create a rotary fund to handle financing.

Three proposals were offered to amend the Ohio constitution, subject to the will of the voters at the polls. They would:

Reduce from one year to six months the residence requirement for Ohio voters.

Prohibit pardons or commutations by the governor unless a majority of the Pardon and Parole Commission recommends such action.

Make the lieutenant governor a Senate member, instead of only its presiding officer. The Senate membership, under the proposal, would name its own presiding officer.

New measures introduced would:

Extend to 8 p.m. the 6:30 p.m. closing time for polling places using voting machines exclusively.

Provide for door-to-door registration of voters.

Appropriate $300,000 to an education assistance corporation created to make higher education loans for needy Ohio students.

Extend public utility taxes to air carriers to raise an estimated $500,000 annually for improvements at state university branches.

Legalize a parking garage under the Statehouse grounds that was turned down by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Reduce from .3 per cent to .2 per cent the corporate franchise tax voted two years ago.

Require statewide voter registration after 1965.

Ban sale of motor vehicles on Sunday.

Replace the elected 23-member State Board of Education with a seven-member board appointed by the governor.

roadblocks and seal off the native township of Ndesha.

Trucks passing through the checkpoints were searched for illegal arms.

U.N. and Congolese officers later held what was described as a cordial conference on means of maintaining order. As a result, Congolese troops now are helping the Ghanaian forces to patrol the town.

In Leopoldville, the United Nations ordered its soldiers today never to surrender their arms and to open fire on anyone who tries to make them.

Reliable sources said the order went out to all U. N. forces around the capital. It followed a number of incidents in which Congolese soldiers arrested and disarmed U. N. troops.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How should velvets and other napped and piled fabrics made of rayon, celanese, or nylon, be pressed?

A. Buy a pressing pad especially for the purpose, made of a stiff board covered with plush. Place this pad, plush side up, on your ironing board. Place material, right side down on the pad, so that the nap of the plush and the nap of the material are face-to-face. Place a dry press cloth over the wrong side, now the topside. Press lightly with short up-and-down motions.

Q. How can I make a good substitute for baking powder?

A. Mix 1/2-teaspoon of soda with 1 1/4 teaspoons of cream of tartar. This solution is equal to 2 teaspoons of baking powder.

Q. How can I remove odors from bottles?

A. Fill half-full of cold water and add a tablespoonful of dry mustard. Shake vigorously, let stand half an hour, and rinse thoroughly with clear water.

Q. How can I take good care of ferns during the cold months?

A. If the house is artificially heated, do not use real cold water on the ferns, as it is too much of a shock when they are growing in a warm room. Take the chill off the water before using.

Q. How can I prevent any danger of rust inside an oven?

A. The oven door of the gas range should be left open for a while after using. This will let out the warm air, and no moisture will collect to form rust.

Students Find Way Of Blowing Off Steam

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Ever had that feeling during midterm exams of wanting to bust someone? East Mecklenburg High School students found a good way of letting off steam.

During the examination period the school's Hi-Y Club towed an old jalopy onto the grounds and allowed students and teachers to take a swing at it — for a price.

A swing with a full-sized sledge hammer cost 15 cents (four swings for four bits); a wallop with a medium-sized sledge hammer cost a dime. For the girls, a solid thump with an ordinary hammer was five cents. The money went for a club project.

Casserole Egg Salad Adds To Friday Menu

Eggs make a good luncheon menu. The main dish, hot casserole egg salad, is a dreamy combination of hard-cooked eggs, celery, pecans, cheddar cheese and potato chips.

Hot casserole egg salad requires six to eight eggs for four servings. The eggs can be hard-cooked a day ahead, and the salad assembled several hours before your guests arrive.

Put the casseroles into the oven the moment your last guest arrives, then handle the final steps of luncheon preparation as the guests are getting settled. A little advance planning makes it possible to do this without remaining in the kitchen constantly.

6 to 8 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely cut (reserve center slices of egg for garnish)
1 1/2 cups celery, 1/4 inch dice
1/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2-3 cup salad dressing — half mayonnaise and half boiled dressing
Salt and pepper to taste
1 cup (1/4 lb.) grated Cheddar

cheese
1 cup (4 oz.) crushed potato chips

Combine eggs, celery, pecans, onion, parsley and pepper in mixing bowl. Add salad dressing. Toss lightly to blend ingredients. Add salt and additional pepper to taste.

Divide into 4 individual 1-cup shallow casseroles. Sprinkle with cheese. Top with potato chips. Place casseroles on baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F) 25 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with hardcooked egg slices. Makes 4 servings.

2 Chester Residents Hurt When Auto Skids

Two Chester women were hurt slightly early this morning when their station wagon skidded on ice on the Fairview Rd. and plunged over an embankment.

Mrs. Betty Thomas, 33, of the Allison School Rd. suffered a bruise of the left leg and her passenger, Geraldine Waugh, 18, of Fairview Rd. received a laceration of the finger. Both were treated at City Hospital and released.

Mrs. Thomas said she lost control as the vehicle skidded and plunged over the embankment hitting a tree.

Patrolman Clarence Lennens said the 1960 Jeep station wagon lodged against a tree down the embankment and was prevented from going down into a gulley. Claude Brewer of R. D. 1 took the two women to the hospital.

Wellsville Coasts Into Sectional Finals With 71-49 Win

Kiggans Nets 33; Beavers, Potters Send 2 Each To State Mat Tourney

EL Opens Tonight

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Wellsville High's Tigers, exercising their newly-acquired magic touch, rolled over Toronto in surprisingly easy fashion Wednesday night, 71-49, to gain a berth in the championship round of the Sectional AA tournament.

Behind a 33-point performance of All-Ohio candidate Bob Kiggans, Coach Jack McDevitt's tall veterans eliminated Toronto with the greatest of ease after moving to a huge first half margin via the fast-break attack.

The rangy Wellsville squad finds itself in the Sectional finals for the third year in succession and this time Steubenville Big Red won't be around as an opponent.

The Tigers ousted Big Red Monday night in gaining revenge for defeats in the championship round two years running.

Wellsville's opponent will be decided tonight as top-seeded East Liverpool and Steubenville Central Catholic tangle at 8 at Memorial Auditorium. The Potters (12-6) are favored to qualify for the championship finals Saturday night against Wellsville, with the winner advancing to the District finals at New Concord March 10-11.

A disappointing crowd of about 500 saw Wellsville dispose of Toronto handily as the Tigers fired in 27 goals in only 56 attempts for a hot 48 per cent shooting average.

Toronto, twice - conquered by Wellsville in regular season play, had one of its poorest nights of the season in field goal accuracy and was in contention for only the first quarter.

Coach Paul Kalivoda's Red Knights were able to maintain the rapid pace set by the Tigers for only the first eight minutes as they ran into a costly point drought to fall far behind in the second. The Knights managed only three goals in 19 attempts and missed 11 in a row in one stretch of the second quarter.

Kiggans, 6-foot, 4-inch senior, turned in his strongest bid of the year for all-state honors in pouring in a dozen goals and nine of 12 free throws for 33 points.

It marked the fourth time this year the tall four-year veteran has topped the 30-point mark in a single game. His best effort was 36 against Weirton Madonna, while he accumulated 34 against Freedom and 35 against Ambridge earlier.

With 1,077 points to date, he lacks only 78 of tying the all-time Wellsville record of 1,155 set by Dan Baldwin a season ago. Kiggans enters the championship round with a 20.7 average, with 394 for the season.

Wellsville extended its season record to 12-7 and is assured of its third winning campaign in a row. Toronto bowed out with an 11-8 mark under Kalivoda.

The Red Knights can blame poor shooting on the defeat, and in particular, the 7-point second period. Wellsville scored 20 in the second to gain a 37-18 halftime lead.

The Tigers really opened up in the third quarter as Kiggans delivered 16 as Wellsville moved in front, 57-33. Senior Phil Baldwin, flashing another hot hand, sparked the Tigers in the second period with four straight field goals off Wellsville's fast break. The 6-2 veteran was the only other Tiger to collect double figures. He hit for 14 on five goals and four free throws.

Toronto posted a miserable 20.7 per cent field goal average in making only 18 of 67 attempts.

Tom Coulter, standout frosh forward for Toronto, led his team with 16 points on seven goals and two of two at the free throw line. Tim Wilson hit for 12 while John Trudicks had seven.

Center Max Shierwood of Toronto couldn't buy a field goal the entire game and fouled out with two minutes left in the third period with one point on a foul shot. Senior Frank Spreaunde also fouled out for Toronto, leaving early in the final quarter with six points.

Wellsville's Alvin Thompson (14) got this shot away as Toronto's Lee Graubner made a vain attempt to block the shot in Wednesday night's Sectional AA tournament held at Memorial Auditorium. Wellsville gained the Sectional finals by handing Toronto a 71-49 setback.

CARL HOPPEL
Seeks Second Ohio Wrestling Title.

DOM DANZO
Seeks 103-Pound Title.

JOE JACKSON
Shoots For 133-Pound Crown.

Hoppel After 2nd Wrestling Crown

Two Beaver Local wrestlers and a pair from East Liverpool will represent the district in the state mat tourney Friday and Saturday at St. John's Arena in Columbus.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's two grapplers are Carl Hoppel, the sensational junior who captured the 133-pound district crown two weeks ago at Kent State University, and Gary Rambo, another junior who was runner-up in the district at 145 pounds.

East Liverpool's two representatives are Dom Danzo, who qualified for the state meet last Saturday at Bridgeport in the 103-pound class, and Joe Jackson, winner of the district's 133-pound division.

Hoppel, who comes from a family of wrestlers, already has one state crown to his credit. He captured the 120-pound title as a freshman in 1959 and was third in the state as a sophomore, wrestling at 133 pounds.

He has established an outstanding record. Hoppel goes into the state meet with a 19-0 mark for the season and in three years of competition has won 65 while only losing two matches.

Rambo has recorded 39 wins, six losses and one draw in his three years of wrestling.

O'Rourke led his wrestlers to an undefeated season with 11 straight victories and the district championship.

His three-year mark at Beaver Local is 27-8. Beaver Local lost only one match in 12 starts last season.

Danzo picked up the 103-pound title Saturday by defeating a Martins Ferry wrestler who had beaten him during the regular season. Danzo scored a tight, 3-2 decision over Martins Ferry's Al Jackson.

East Liverpool's Jackson pinned his opponent in the semi-finals and then gained an impressive 8-2 decision over Dale Deaton of Martins Ferry.

Potter Coach Roy Peduzzi will accompany Jackson and Danzo to Columbus. St. John's arena is located on the Ohio State campus.

'Iron Dukes' Surprise St. Bonaventure, 79-74

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two basketball tournaments whose winners figure to be among the leading contenders for the National Collegiate Championship begin today and the results could confuse the issue as much as what's been happening to the St. Bonaventure team lately.

St. Bonaventure, beaten only by Ohio State in its first 22 games this season and ranked second nationally, was the first to accept an at-large invitation to the NCAA tournament. The Bonnies figured they could beat the mighty Buckeyes if given a second chance. So did a lot of impartial observers.

Then they ran into a couple of teams that were eager for bids to the National Invitation Tournament and pinned their hopes on one big victory. It was Niagara 87, St. Bonaventure 77 last Saturday. And Wednesday night an undermanned but fired up Duquesne team, playing without a substitution, conquered the Bonnies 79-74 in overtime. Now it's hard to figure who fits in where in the tournament picture.

The Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference Tournaments—starting today—could blur the scene a bit more. West Virginia, ranked eighth nationally in the Associated Press poll, is favored to win its seventh straight Southern title. Duke, No. 9, is seeded second but a slight favorite in the ACC event.

The windup of the Southwest Conference season tonight should produce another NCAA tournament entry. Texas Tech (10-3) can win the title by beating Texas. Otherwise the winner of the Texas A&M-Arkansas game will tie.

Tournament-bound and tournament-hopeful teams dominated the rest of Wednesday night's major program.

Holy Cross, seeking the same

NIT berth that Duquesne wants, rang up its eighth straight victory, downing Boston College 87-74.

Western Kentucky, second in the Ohio Valley Conference, beat NCAA-bound Louisville 96-80.

Elsewhere Notre Dame ended a rare losing season with a 61-54 victory over Creighton; Colgate downed Connecticut for the first time in four years 83-71; Carnegie Tech downed Penn State 70-57; Seton Hall overpowered Scranton 94-82; Lehigh beat Rutgers, 70-60, and the Air Force beat Regis 67-64.

10 District Teams Remain In Action

Only 10 of the district's 17 schools are still in action today as the rugged tournament trail continues to separate the weak from the strong. And the competition gets keener this week.

Among the seven area teams which have packed away their gear until next season are Beaver Local, Newell, Salineville, Lisbon and Fairfield-Waterford.

Two others — Midland and South Side — weren't presented the chance to wage tournament battles because they didn't win their league titles.

Beaver Local, under Coach Jack Frontone, Coach Hank Kuzma's Midland Leopards, John Robinson's Newell Vikings and Bing Newton's Fairfield-Waterford Rebels all compiled winning seasons.

Salineville, under Coach Dick Jones, Coach Dave Nichol's South Side Rams and Coach Gary Pike's Lisbon Blue Devils all wrote losing campaigns into the books.

Barring an upset, another area squad — Chester — figures to end its cage season tonight in opposing Wellsburg in the District AA tournament at West Liberty. The Panthers (5-15) have been underdogs most of the season due to inexperience and lack of height.

Stanton Local of Irondelet, leading all district schools with an 18-0 record, faces Springfield (17-4) tonight for the Jefferson County Class A championship. The unbeaten Irons also face Springfield Saturday night as one of the co-finalists of the Sectional A eliminations. The Irons show two victories in regular season play over Springfield.

Ken Cunningham of East Liverpool, averaging 24.3 points per game, leads East Liverpool against Steubenville Central tonight. He's a shade ahead of Stanton Local's center Don (Will) Spires in the individual scoring race.

Quakers In Sectional Finals

Davidson's 32 Pace Salem

Big Don Davidson broke loose for 32 points Wednesday night to lead the Salem Quakers past Brookfield, 54-47, in the Class AA Sectional Finals at Struthers Fieldhouse.

Salem will face Struthers Friday night at 9 in the Sectional finals with the winner advancing to District play set for Youngstown. Struthers had an easy time eliminating Youngstown South, 74-55 last night.

Davidson hit on 13 of 21 shots from the field to chalk up his total which measured more than half of his team's points.

Salem led at halftime, 26-21, and 38-33 after three periods.

Brookfield, which entered the tourney with a 9-10 mark, was sparked by the fine jump shooting of Ron Kurtz, who kept his team in the game with 26 points.

Dead fish by the hundreds are showing up in farm ponds all over Columbiana County.

I mentioned in my column before the ponds began to thaw that a heavy fish kill could be expected due to the fact that all ponds were frozen over solid with a continuous blanket of snow shutting off the sunlight. The oxygen in the water was depleted, with the result the fish died of suffocation.

Even the hardy bullheads were victims, as well as frogs which hibernate in the water. I counted more than 2,000 dead bluegills on Ruff Pond at the state Zephernick area along with numerous dead frogs, mostly green frogs, the little brother of the bull frogs.

THE THING to do is first: Determine if the kill was complete. This being true, the only thing that can be done is to restock and start all over, then hope we don't have another winter like this one for the next 50 years.

During the spring-like weather of last week, the sucker fishermen became active, anticipating the first nibble of the season.

It is possible to pick up a native sucker that has hung around all winter in the same pool, but the sucker run will not begin until sometime in April when such fishing should be good.

So you ask, "Who gives a whoop about a sucker?" Plenty of fishermen look forward to spring sucker fishing.

One thing to keep in mind is to pick up your 1961 fishing license before going fishing, or it could be pretty expensive. Game protectors will not accept excuses for fishing without a license.

SOON NOW the spring migration of song birds will begin from the south.

I hope we don't have the same condition this year as we had last year when the swallows returned before the insect hatch was on. As a result, many swallows died of starvation. They could be seen circling the open waters searching for insects that did not exist and finally lighting on the bank exhausted, only to keel over dead from starvation.

The fur buyers in this county have been having it rough. One complains about the poor quality of the 'coon pelts.

So many unprime furs are brought in by Ohio raccoon hunters that hunt in Pennsylvania where there is an open season before the pelts are prime. Also they complain about the early season in Ohio.

The only solution I can see is to refuse to buy 'em. One trapper told me that he got $10 for a faded mink he trapped last week. Both trappers and fur buyers should attend the annual fish and game hearings and put in their resolutions to be presented to the Wildlife Council if they think the situation is wrong.

Ohio State's Jerry Lucas Selected Player Of Year

By TED MEIER
AP Basketball Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerry Lucas, of Ohio State's top-ranked and unbeaten Buckeyes, is college basketball's player of the year.

His selection, announced today by The Associated Press, provided a double honor within a few hours for the 6-8 whiz, who is for each first team vote. He received 392 first team votes for 1,960 points. This, plus two points for a second team vote, gave him a grand total of 1,962 points. Only two voters failed to mention him on their ballot.

Lucas, a junior and the only repeater from the 1960 All-American, was followed in the voting by Stith, a 6-5 senior whose play has made St. Bonaventure a national power. Stith polled 353 first team votes and an over-all total of 1,848.

Dischinger, a 6-7 junior, received 280 first team votes and 1,540 points. Kaiser, a senior and at 6-1 the smallest player on the first team, got 138 first team votes and 894 points. Walker, a 6-6 junior, polled 807 points, including 109 firsts.

Walt Bellamy of Indiana, Tony Jackson of St. Johns (N. Y.), Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, Billy McGill of Utah and Doug Moe of North Carolina were named to the second team. Art Heyman of Duke, York Larese of North Carolina, John Rudometkin of Southern California and John Havlicek and Larry Siegfried of Ohio State comprise the third team.

The 15 players on the first three teams will receive certificates from the Associated Press. In addition, Lucas will receive a special certificate as player of the year.

All-America Mention

West Virginia University's Rod Thorn today received honorable mention on the All-America college basketball team selected by the Associated Press.

expected to lead the Buckeyes to their second straight national collegiate (NCAA) championship later this month.

Earlier, Lucas had been named to the 1961 collegiate All-America by The Associated Press along with Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech and Chet Walker of Bradley.

Lucas dominated the voting by 395 sportswriters and broadcasters from every section of the United States. He missed by only 13 points of getting the maximum 1,975 points based on five points

Palmer Looms Favorite At New Orleans

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — South Africa's Gary Palmer, who qualifies as a shrewd appraiser of golf talent, labels Arnold Palmer "the greatest golfer in the world" and the big Pennsylvanian was out to substantiate this judgment today in the opening round of the $30,000 Greater New Orleans Invitational. There was little discord of opinion that the 31-year-old Palmer, winner of three tournaments on the budding winter tour, was the man to beat. His seven-stroke victory in the Baton Rouge Open that ended Sunday was a pretty convincing factor.

Despite Palmer's glowing description and Palmer's recent successes, he won't suffer from the lack of competition.

Player, former British Open champion and currently the leading money winner on the tour with earnings of better than $16,000, will be among the leading contenders.

Farrell Likes It With Phils

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Relief ace Farrell likes it with the last place Philadelphia Phillies. He's not interested in going to the pennant contending Milwaukee Braves.

Farrell, 26, has been the object of trade talk since shortly after Gene Mauch succeeded Eddie Sawyer as manager of the Phillies last spring. There were rumors that the two weren't getting along, and there were reports that the Braves were deeply interested in acquiring his services.

Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen made it official last week when he admitted the Braves had offered unnamed players for Farrell.

Farrell hopes all this trade smoke doesn't fan into a fire. "Sure it's nice to be with a pennant contender," he said today, "but I'd like to stay where I am. I'm sort of attached to this club. I like the city. I like my associations and I've come to understand my manager."

"It's no secret that Gene and I didn't hit it off well for a time last year. But I feel differently now. I've had time to think things over. I'm convinced whatever he did was for my good. I like the way he does things. He's aggressive and he likes his players to be the same way."

Fullmer's Manager Says Robinson Has No Punch

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson couldn't knock out Gene Fullmer with his best punch. Fullmer's manager declared today.

"It may be a little dangerous to say that," Marv Jensen admitted, "but Gene has lost respect for Robinson's punches."

Jensen might have been thinking of a previous occasion, on which such a loss of respect resulted in a loss of consciousness for the bullish champion from Utah.

"Yeah, that's what happened when Ray knocked Gene out in Chicago in 1957," Jensen said. "But Gene feels that was a lucky punch, because he was moving in fast and supplied a lot of force himself."

Whether Jensen's theory stands up depends simply on whether Fullmer stays standing up Saturday night when he defends his NBA middleweight title against the 40-year-old challenger at Las Vegas Convention Center.

When Robinson and Fullmer fought to a 15-round draw in Los Angeles last December, Jensen said, Robinson nailed Gene with some magnificent punches in the fourth and eleventh rounds. "I think Robinson shot everything he had," Jensen said, "and Gene wasn't even dazed."

"This time he really wants to get in there and trade punches."

Celts Lose, But Back Into Title As Philly Bows

BOSTON (AP) — One way to beat the Boston Celtics—and there aren't many—involves the yoyo.

That was the formula St. Louis Hawks' Coach Paul Seymour used in Wednesday night's 110-97 triumph over the defending National Basketball Association champions.

But it didn't stop the Celtics from clinching their fifth straight Eastern Division crown. They backed into it when Syracuse whipped Philadelphia 149-128.

making it mathematically impossible for the Warriors to catch up. Wilt Chamberlain got 56 points in the losing cause.

"I told the players before the game that I was going to have the yoyo out," Seymour said.

He explained that he meant the Hawks had to slow the game as much as possible, and they were required to pass at least eight times before taking a shot. If they violated the rule, out they come.

Los Angeles increased its second-place lead in the Western Division to 1½ games by blasting New York 144-107 in the first half of the Boston Garden doubleheader.

Oscar Robertson hit for 37 points and Arlen Bockhorn for 36 as Cincinnati dropped Detroit 137-122 and moved to within one half game of the Pistons in the fight for the Western Division playoff spot.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Saturday night I had the gang in. There are eight of us couples in our late 20s and we've been friendly for years.

A few of the girls came into the kitchen to help me prepare sandwiches. One gal mentioned that Bonnie (made-up name) was getting more brazen by the day. I asked what she meant and she said, "Her skirt is shorter than anybody's and she wears the blackest stockings and the highest heels in the crowd."

When I entered the living room I saw Bonnie sitting next to my husband, looking quite sexy. I called her into the kitchen and impulsively repeated what the other gal had said. She really let me have it.

Now I'm wondering if I should have kept my mouth shut. Do you think I owe her an apology? —IN DOUBT.

The Name's The Thing

Dear Ann: A certain woman who moved to this city recently joined our church club. She embarrassed me something terrible the other day and I would like your opinion on whether she was right or wrong.

This woman has a name which is foreign and absolutely unpronounceable. I feel when people grow up in this country they ought to drop some of the European endings from their names and make it easier on Americans.

I went to introduce this woman to some of my friends and I called her "Mrs. Whatchamacallit." If she had any sense of humor at all she would not have blown up at me. She said in a loud voice: "My name is Mrs. ZM. If you don't mind." I could have crawled into the woodwork. What do you think of this? —JARRED.

Dear Jarred: To every person his name is the most important sound in all the world. She had a right to resent being called "Mrs. Whatchamacallit."

No name is unpronounceable. Some names are more difficult than others, but any name that can be written in English can be pronounced.

Sit down this minute and chop

Dear Ann: How old does a girl have to be before she can ride in a car with a boy?

This may seem like an odd question but my father says I can date on weekends if I am in the house by midnight but I can't ride in a car with a fellow until I am 21.

I am 16 years of age and an honor student. I've never been in any trouble and I've never broken my curfew. Please answer in the column. My folks think your are tops. — WONDERING.

Dear Wondring: In my opinion a girl who is allowed to date should be allowed to ride in a car with a fellow — provided he has a driver's license and does not have a reputation for being reckless or smart alecky.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Library's New Books Include One On Advent Of Roosevelt

A pair of experienced newspapermen have rolled back the curtain of history 28 years to a most crucial week in U.S. history, the inaugural of Franklin Roosevelt and the famous Bank Holiday.

"One Week in March," by Mark Sherwin and Charles Lam Markmann, recreates the crazy patterns of life at that moment when a man with a $500 bill found himself groveling for a nickel to pay his fare on the subway and a drugstore clerk offered only $5 in change to a gentleman with a $100 bill who badly needed shaving supplies.

The death knell to democracy in Germany was also rung during this hateful week when Hitler and the Nazi party took over the Reichstag.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said the Carnegie Public Library's new book shelf abounds in colorful nostalgic reminiscences of that any period called "The Twenties."

Ernest Lindgren of Great Britain's National Film archives has published a picture history of "The Cinema" which came into its own as a real art form at this time; Gene Fowler reminisces about his life as a reporter in the famous decade in "Skyline"; Robert Shaplen did research in Sweden and all over the world for his biography of "Kreuger." Kenneth Galbraith says that he was a swindler who thought of embezzlement in terms of hundreds of millions. He had made millions from matches, but the great crash of 1929 revealed him as a fraud.

This season of the year is tax time and the library is prepared with a new volume by J. K. Lasser on "How to Run a Small Business" and the 1961 "Master Tax Guide" published by the Commerce Clearing House.

For those who savor high adventure with a salty flavor, the library recommends two new works — a novel and a biography: Van Wyck Mason writes of the 1740's and an expedition to the South

City Jaycees, Pastors Plan Easter Rites

Initial plans for a community Easter sunrise service were started at a meeting Wednesday morning between representatives of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The service will be held Sunday, April 2, at 6:30 a. m. at Patterson Field. If the weather is bad, the service will be moved to the Westgate School auditorium.

The Jaycees sponsored the community's first such service in years last Easter.

More than 1,000 attended.

Paul Seckman is the Jaycee chairman. Attending the meeting yesterday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church were Seckman, the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, the Rev. James Hunton and the Rev. R. L. Lattimore.

The Jaycees supervise the arrangements while the ministers provide the program.

Lauds Appointment

CLEVELAND (AP)—James P. Mitchell says appointment of Arthur Goldberg to succeed him as secretary of labor was the best appointment President Kennedy could have made. Mitchell, here to address meetings of two service organizations today, had only words of praise for Goldberg, a "long time friend of mine."

Water Crew Replaces Fire Hydrant Valve

Two portable pumps were used to keep an excavation clear of water Wednesday while water department crews replaced an 80-year-old valve on a 4-inch main at E. 5th and College Sts., serving a nearby fire hydrant.

The valve was replaced without turning off service in the main, which meant water had to be pumped continually to keep the excavation clear. The line crew used one of its gasoline-driven pumps as the job got under way, then later called firemen to hook up another portable pump to help remove the water.

The valve is on a line which feeds out of a 6-inch line hooked onto a 16-inch main out of the Thompson Hill reservoir.

Thieves Grab $5,000 In Loot From Auto

CLEVELAND (AP) — Thieves stole from an automobile Wednesday cameras and equipment valued by the owner, Theodore Coleman, 49, at about $20,000. Police estimated the loss conservatively at about $5,000.

Coleman, owner of the Coleman Motion Picture Co., said his car was broken into just outside the WEWS television studios.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What To Do When You Stop Losing

"I don't think it is worth it—I haven't lost a single pound in almost a month," a discouraged dieter announced indignantly. This dieter has reduced from 250 to 180 pounds.

A prolonged weight plateau can dishearten the most determined dieter. Human nature needs tangible rewards for continued effort. Three-fourths of success is knowing you are on the right track. All dieters who have hit a snag, tune in.

When you reach a weight plateau, be assured that your reducing course is running true to form. Your body needs to adjust to the new weight. Regard this lull in losing as a chance to stabilize your weight at this new lower level. Be content to stay six weeks to two months at this reduced weight.

HERE ARE THREE measures to help you resume losing. Change the character of the diet, stepping up protein. Secondly, step up exercise. The rate of weight loss is determined by the difference between calories used and the number consumed.

Calories cannot be safely cut too low, but exercise can step up the burning. Thirdly, you can drop down to 800 calories, but for a two-day period only.

While holding your weight level, you can go right along toning your muscles and losing inches with precision calisthenics. The added advantage of regular exercise is that it helps keep pounds off. Toned muscles rebuff fat.

One other measure may be used during a weight stand-still. For conscientious dieters who feel depressed, the doctor will sometimes prescribe a euphoric-type pill to help lift a dieter's mood and bring a sense of well-being.

To this dietician's way of thinking, the three-quarters period is the right time for such help, rather than at the beginning of the diet. Anything of this sort should be used for a week or two only. It is newly-established food habits, not a pill, that does the reducing.

In any reducing program, it is important to eat three meals a day so as to take advantage of the specific dynamic action of food. The effect of food in raising the metabolism above the basal level is called its specific dynamic action.

The metabolism begins to rise about an hour after a meal is eaten, continues to rise for about three hours, then decreases. Protein causes the greatest rise in metabolism.

THIS EXPLAINS why three meals a day keep the metabolism elevated for many hours and how it is possible to lose more weight by dividing the day's calories into three meals.

During this period of daily walk, plus regular non-strenuous calisthenics, will help you to resume reducing while eating enough food to feel satisfied and happy.

Following a general meeting, individual committees met to plan activities for the year.

Fire Damages Motor And Wiring Of City Car

The motor and wiring of a 1959 sedan operated by Mrs. Jane Steele of Lisbon St. was damaged by fire Thursday night at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts., firemen reported. Firemen said the gasoline filter bowl broke and allowed the gasoline to fall on the hot engine and ignite.

The department was called to the home of Emil Bernhard, 511 E. 6th St., at 5:06 p. m. yesterday when a furnace became clogged and caught fire, filling the home with smoke.

Hancock Agricultural Club To Meet Monday

NEW CUMBERLAND — The newly-organized Agricultural Club for Hancock County farmers will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the County Extension Office to select a name, hear reports of new developments in farming and study fertilizer placement.

An interest sheet is being prepared to allow farmers to indicate subjects they need and for which they desire information.

The steering committee elected Shields Mayhew as chairman. Refreshments will be served by G. E. Walters and Mayhew. "Anyone enjoying rural living and farming will feel at home with this group," Oliver Johnson, agricultural agent, said.

Would Shift Banks

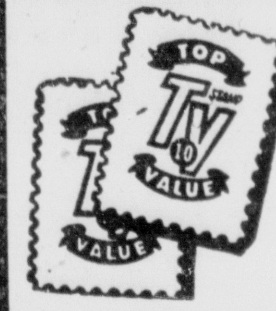

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board has proposed to shift member banks in five cities, Toledo, Ohio, among them, from "reserve city" to "country bank" status effective June 1.

President George Washington vetoed only two bills passed by Congress. Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the other hand, vetoed a record total of 631.

Post Receives Dinner Report

A report was given on the 15th anniversary banquet Saturday at a meeting of Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 Tuesday night.

Emmett Daniels, commander, said 48 attended and that 15-year pins were presented 17 members. Mayor William J. Shoub, one of the 15-year members, welcomed guests and Daniels gave the welcome from the post.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Newton, Lawrence Teeple, 6th District commander, and Marshal Sutherin of Salem, Columbiana County VFW Council commander.

Mrs. Newton is the mother of Pvt. Tommy Mackall, for whom the post was named. Guests also were presented from East Liverpool, Lisbon and Alliance posts.

Daniels reported the post has received a check for $23.38 for its commission on a magazine sale held last fall.

Plans were made to send a delegation to the 6th District conference Saturday and Sunday at Columbiana. A dance and social period will be held Saturday night and business sessions all Sunday.

Officers will be nominated at the next meeting March 14. The election is March 28.

Police Set Patrols To Guard Against Student Molesters

Regular police patrols have been established in all school areas, using both radio cars and unmarked private autos, to help prevent repetition of an incident Friday in which a man attempted to seize an East End girl while she was walking to school, Chief A. J. Radeschi said today.

Police should be notified immediately of anyone loitering on foot or in an auto in a school area along the route that youngsters generally follow to classes, the chief said. If police are notified, they will be able to check suspicious characters, he said.

Radeschi emphasized that parents should warn youngsters against accompanying strangers, whether on foot or in an auto. Where possible, youngsters should walk to school in groups of two or more — a sure deterrent to would-be child molesters, the chief added.

In the incident last week, which took place in heavy fog, a man attempted to seize a 13-year-old girl who was walking on Globe St., en route to school. He fled when a woman ran from her home to investigate after hearing the child scream.

Chester Jails Driver After Plunge Of Auto

A 41-year-old Geneva (Ohio) man, whose auto bounced off the rear of a passing truck and plunged over an embankment into Rock Springs Park Wednesday night, is being held at the Chester Jail awaiting a hearing.

Richard Dixon escaped injury when his 1949 sedan rounded a turn from Carolina Ave. onto the Route 30 hill and struck the rear wheel of a descending tractor-trailer truck, then careened over the embankment about 20 feet down into the park area.

Patrolman Clarence Lennens said the car was demolished. The truck was operated by Edward Jackson of Uniontown.

Dixon is in jail in lieu of $55.50 bond awaiting a hearing Saturday before Mayor Ray Collins on a charge of hazardous driving.

7 More Join County Conservation Program

LISBON — The Board of Supervisors of the Columbiana County Soil Conservation District Tuesday approved seven more co-operators in the county program. The following farms were added:

Edison G. Watson, 242 W. 6th St., East Liverpool, 158 acres in Wayne Township; Robert Summers of Kensington R.D. 1, 167 acres in West and Hanover Townships; George Niswonger of Kensington R.D. 1, 86 acres in Hanover Township; Arthur Rudebeck of Leetonia R.D. 1, 104 acres in Salem Township; Albert Hartman of Hanover Township, 85 acres in Hanover Township; Andrew Ridzon of New Springfield, 41 acres in Unity Township and Hammond Park, city of Wellsville, 25 acres in Yellow Creek Township.

Judge Continues Trial In Non-Support Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a continuance until this afternoon in a hearing for Robert DeBee of Chester R. D. 2, charged with non-support of four children.

The hearing was continued to arrange the appearance of DeBee's wife, Mrs. Marlene DeBee of East End, who filed the charge Jan. 11, alleging her husband had not supported the children since Dec. 17.

DeBee told the judge he was in Beaver County Jail from Jan. 10 until Tuesday and gave his wife his last paycheck before he was jailed. He told police he had been jailed on an embezzlement charge. The court entered a not guilty plea for DeBee.

Among many East African tribes, which prize cattle highly the highest compliment a swain can pay to his maiden is to imply that she is bovine.

Kennedy Holding First Bipartisan Meeting Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wary Republican leaders join their Democratic counterparts today in the first bipartisan meeting with President Kennedy.

Kennedy invited 15 congressional leaders and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to lunch for what promised to be a discussion of international affairs as well as his domestic legislative program.

While they indicated in advance their general support for Kennedy's foreign policies, Republican chieftains made it clear they expect to maintain their opposition to some of the President's domestic programs.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said that if Kennedy wants to know about GOP views on some of these latter proposals "I will give him a good, honorable answer."

The men will be paid $125 an hour and work a 40-hour week. Elmer Tankersley, county welfare director, said.

Would-Be U.S. Spaceman Is Dedicated To His Work

Among the three astronauts now picked for final space flight training, none is more eager to be the first aloft than Alan Shepard. This is the last of three articles on the trio.

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — "He is always reading technical manuals and the big policy type journals, the kind the admirals and generals say should be read. He is one of those lucky men—his work is his hobby."

Louise Shepard once gave this nutshell assessment of her husband, astronaut Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr., 37, one of three men now training to become the first U. S. spacemen.

This complete dedication to his work is one reason the Navy commander is among the final three, one of whom will be lofted on a pioneer space journey perhaps as early as April.

Robert Gilruth, Project Mercury director who selected the trio from the seven original astronauts, said the choice was based on physical fitness and superior performance in training. The man who takes the initial flight will be picked in the same manner.

Shepard wants to be that man. He summed up his feelings this way:

"There are lots of answers why I want to be the first man in space, but a short answer would be this: The flight obviously is a challenge and I feel that the more severe challenge will occur on the first flight and I signed up to accept this challenge."

The crew-cut Shepard, a native of East Derry, N. H., has accepted challenges all his life.

He was graduated from the U.S.

Naval Academy in 1944 and saw World War II action in the Pacific aboard the destroyer Cogswell. He entered flight training after the war and served aboard Mediterranean aircraft carriers, then became a test pilot.

He flew high-altitude research missions, helped develop the Navy's in-flight refueling system and contributed greatly to research on carrier landing techniques.

As a test pilot Shepard had several narrow escapes, with engines flaming out and canopies ripping off at high speed.

Because of his intense interest in acquiring knowledge, Shepard excels in the "school work" of the astronauts. This includes instruction in astronautics, particularly ballistics, trajectories, fuels, guidance and other aspects of missile operations, space environment, meteorology, astronomy, astrophysics and geography. In space flight, the pilots will be required to make scientific observations in these areas.

Off-duty, Shepard spends as much time as possible with his wife and two daughters, Laura, 13, and Juliana, 9.

45 In Hancock Ask Subsidies

Forty-five Hancock County farmers had applied for subsidy payments for conservation practices when the deadline expired Tuesday, the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee in New Cumberland reported.

Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager, said the ASC committee will meet Monday at 9:30 a. m. to make the initial allocations to county farmers eligible for the subsidy payments.

The county earlier was allocated $6,500 in federal funds for liming, fertilizing, strip cropping, tree planting, wood lot improvement and other conservation practices.

There are about 225 farmers in the county eligible to share in the funds. Though the deadline expired for the initial allocation, farmers may continue to apply by visiting the ASC office with soil samples.

Farmers ruled eligible for federal funds won't actually receive any checks before July 1 for the initial allocation.

Double Payment

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis county tax collector's office is having second thoughts about its new system of returning the taxpayer's original bill as a receipt, marked paid. Some 500 taxpayers have returned the receipted bills, along with second payments in full.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Lack Of Spanking Causes Delinquency

Acres of print, hours of talk and an enormous amount of money and research have been devoted to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

But most of the print with talk and research deals with the delinquent after he has got t h a t way. Some attention has, of course, been turned to detecting t h e child of early and l a t e r Dr. Garry Meyers school age who seems inclined toward delinquency. But a most nothing has been done to look into probable causes of delinquency in the child from birth until he enters school. Aren't the patterns for the child's behavior and the patterns for his control by his parents at eight, 12 or 14 pretty well established long before he enters school? Isn't the delinquent at 11 or 15 generally beyond the guidance and control of his parents?

HOW ARE these parents going to make their guidance and control effective then, if they were not effective in the child's early years? Disobedience toward his parents is a common characteristic of the juvenile delinquent.

How is he to learn obedience so late if he hadn't learned it before the age of three or four? And if he pays no attention to the wishes and commands of his parents now, how is he going to learn well to obey officers of justice and the law if he had not learned the alphabet of obedience in his before-school years?

Therefore, research should first of all examine the prevailing theory and practice of disciplining children from about two to six.

For half a century, young parents have been generally led to believe that they should train the tot solely by love, persuasion and reasoning and that they never should use physical pain to restrain him, unless they don't know what else to do or get so mad that they can't keep from whacking him.

FOR THE MANY years I have been writing this column, I have consistently questioned this theory and practice and have entreated parents to use the hand deliberately to train the child, beginning as soon as he can creep or toddle, to respect without doubt or hesitancy the short word "No."

I have maintained that his learning this is the essential foundation for his learning respect for the rights of others and regard for constituted authority — the foundation of good citizenship.

I have also been saying that I believe the single greatest cause of mounting juvenile delinquency is the notion most young parents have that they should not spank a tot to restrain him. My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I effect a rough imitation sanded finish on some of my walls?

A. Try mixing some cornmeal with the paint before applying it. The fine particles of meal should be sifted out and the coarser portions stirred into the paint. The cornmeal, being of approximately the same density as the paint, stays suspended in the mixture. The amount of the sanded effect is, of course, governed by the amount of cornmeal put into the paint.

Q. How can I use about half the amount of sugar when stewing fruits?

A. By sweetening the fruit after it has been cooked, rather than during the cooking process.

Q. How can I prevent the coil springs of a bed from rusting?

A. Rub them occasionally with a cloth dipped in melted paraffin.
